OUR SOLUTION

AWARENESS AND EDUCATION

Through awareness events, tailored workshops, and continuous research, we equip parents, caregivers, students, and professionals with practical tools to prevent and combat trafficking.

CARE COORDINATION

We provide comprehensive case management and access to critical services; including housing, healthcare, employment support, court advocacy, and transportation. The Hope Collective offers survivors a sense of belonging, celebration, and peer support, fostering healing and empowerment.

MENTORSHIP

This year-long program helps survivors rebuild trust, set personal goals, and develop healthy relationships. Mentors provide consistent support, modeling the value of meaningful connections and personal growth.

LIFE SKILLS COACHING

We empower survivors to achieve independence through coaching on mental and emotional wellness, financial literacy, healthy nutrition and movement, and spiritual development. Participants develop practical competencies while cultivating strong support systems through group and personalized coaching sessions.

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

Survivors develop leadership habits, articulate their core values, and create personal mission statements. This program provides a safe space for survivors to share their experiences and gain confidence in guiding themselves and others while being empowered to lead fulfilling lives.

FAMILY SUPPORT PROGRAM

Harbour Hope provides two-fold wrap-around care that fosters healing and resilience for the entire family. Whether equipping caregivers with trauma-informed tools while their youth engage in safe programming, or providing children’s programming so adult survivors can focus fully on their recovery, we ensure no family member walks the healing journey alone.

STORY SPOTLIGHTS

“I believe there's a common assumption that physical safety for trafficking survivors equates to psychological and emotional safety, but that simply isn't the case. People often underestimate the depth of healing required after trafficking. Physical freedom is just the start—in my opinion, a mere 2% of the journey. The remaining 98% involves the challenging, long-term work of reclaiming your emotional and psychological recovery. “
-M.M Survivor

Mary’s journey began with heartbreak. Placed in foster care at a young age due to her mother’s struggles with addiction, Mary and her sister endured a life of instability. While her foster family provided for her on the surface, she faced subtle but painful rejection, always feeling like an outsider.
At just 19, Mary has experienced more hardship than most people endure in a lifetime. After being kicked out of her foster home for drug use, she fell into the clutches of a trafficker who preyed on her vulnerability. What started as a promise of “protection” turned into years of exploitation.

When Mary found her way to Harbour Hope, she was understandably guarded and reluctant to trust. Therapy had only brought her more pain in the past. But through compassionate care, open conversations, and consistent support, she’s beginning to take the brave steps toward healing.

G.W. mentioned how she was looking forward to going out with her mentors for her birthday but was nervous because she didn't know what to expect.

"I had a great day. I have never had a birthday like this before. We went to Olive Garden. They even got me a present. “It’s a beautiful day” journal and they suggested I use it as a gratitude journal"
